During the school year, there were many prosperous arrivals as well as disheartening departures.

Surprisingly, Chris Lincoln, the Channel 8 sportscaster, arrived at Cascia Hall football game to interview the new coach, John Wittenborn, and a few senior players. Lonnie Spencer arrived from Broken Arrow to take over as head coach for basketball.

New uniforms were sighted throughout the year for various groups. Band parents made shirts for the band members. Sports boosters paid for uniforms for the baseball team. The basketball teams received warm-ups.

New and successful groups arrived on the scene. A tennis team was organized by Coach Spencer. A winterguard was organized by Wes Cartwright, and 1980-81 was the first year for wrestling cheerleaders.

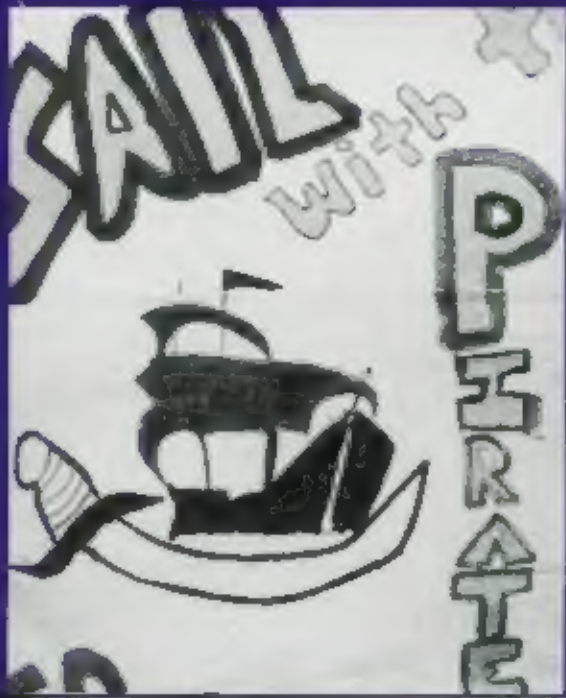

Of course, numerous faces arrived on campus — new teachers and new students. Various other faces departed only to embark on a different voyage.

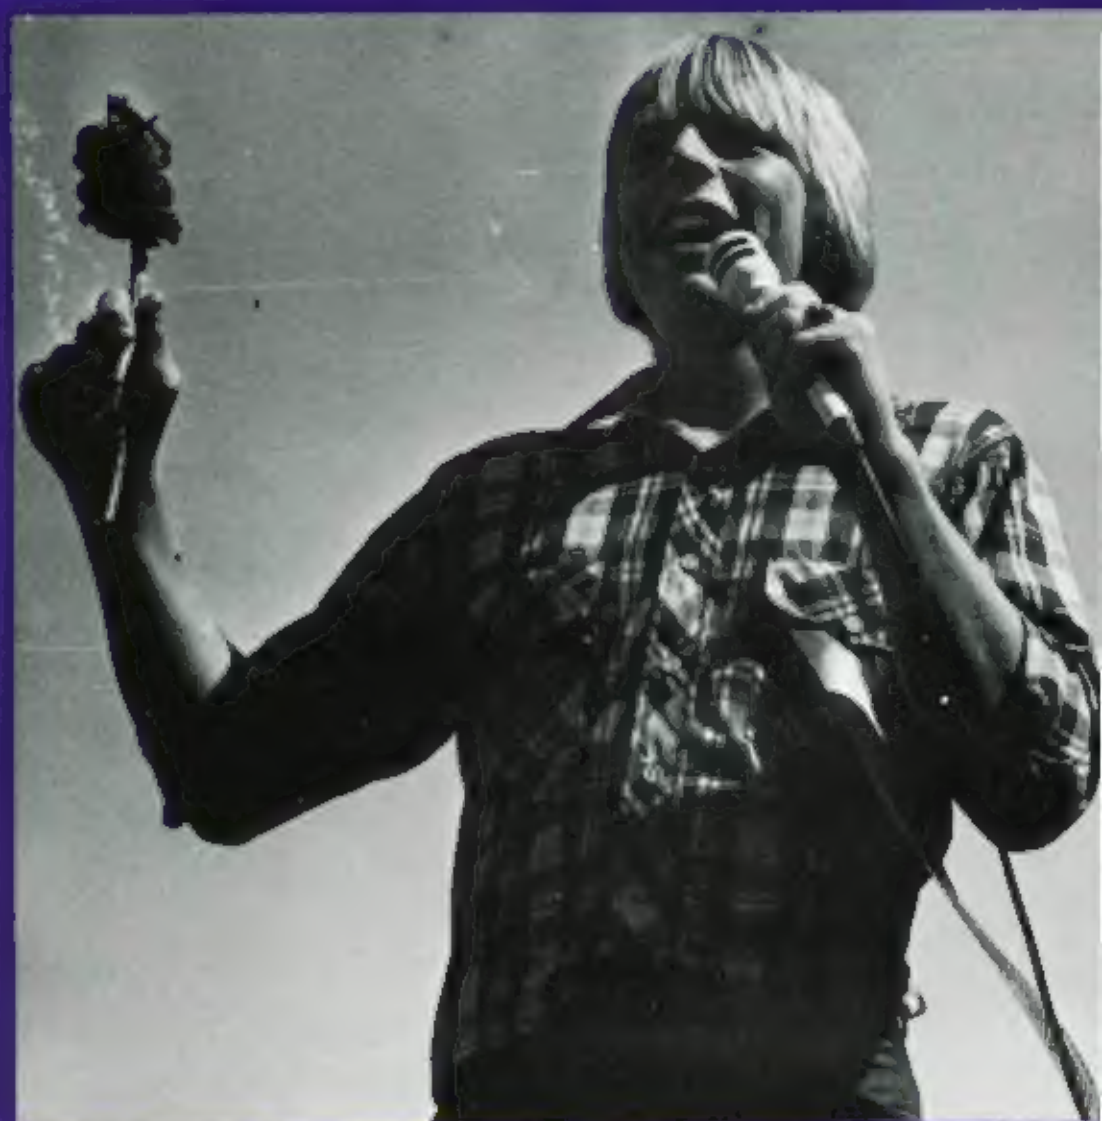

The headlines read
These are the worst of times.

Our memories of yesterday will last a lifetime.

We'll take the best, forget the rest,
And someday we'll find . . .
These are the best of times.

CURRENT EVENTS — ANOTHER YEAR PA

The 1980-81 school year contained many events and changes, which we have tried to record for you in this yearbook. There were also many events and changes in our country during this year which affected our lives and will remain a part of history.

A New President . . .

Of major importance was the election of a new President, a former movie star and the oldest elected chief executive.

Republican Ronald Reagan stepped into office faced with many political and economic problems. Fifty-two Americans had been held hostage in Iran for over a year, the star villain being the Ayatollah Khomeini. Through negotiations made by Jimmy Carter and his staff, the hostages were released one day prior to President Reagan's inauguration.

Reagan set to work on a new economy plan for our country, but was temporarily halted when a young man, John Hinkley, gunned down the President, Press Secretary John Brady, and a security guard in front of a Washington hotel.

President Reagan quickly recovered and resumed his duties, and another important figure, Pope John Paul II, survived an attempt on his life in Rome.

We Said Goodbye

Washington and surrounding states were darkened by the eruption of Mt. Saint Helens and the southern states were besieged by thousands of Cuban refugees seeking freedom and shelter.

We lost movie greats Mae West, Jimmy Durante, Alfred Hitchcock, and Steve McQueen. Another assassin's bullet took the life of singer-composer John Lennon, and the world said goodbye to boxing idol Joe Lewis.

SSES — "IN THE NIGHT"

Victories . . .

There were also victories and happy times for America. Who can forget the victory of the U.S. hockey team over the Soviets and speed-skater Eric Heiden's five gold medals in the Winter Olympics in Lake Placid, New York?

Although many American athletes were disappointed when the U.S. Olympic team boycotted the Summer Olympics in Moscow, it proved to be another victory for the Americans, to unite for what they believe in.

We can't forget the cheering and celebrating, and the feeling of united patriotism when the hostages came home from Iran, nor the feeling of accomplishment when we launched and landed another spacecraft.

Gas prices soared, George Burns made a country-western album, and the Phillies won the World Series. Bo Derek became the country's new sex symbol, ABSCAM deleted some political symbols, and Misha the bear, symbol for the Summer Olympics, didn't make it in America. As retiring newsman Walter Cronkite said for the last time this year, "That's the way it was."

FADS AND FAVORITES

Every year brings new styles of dress, new things to do, and new people to entertain us. 1980-81 was no exception. The students of Mannford High School had their favorites; they wore them, did them, watched them, and voted for them.

The "preppy look" put alligators on our chests, and Gloria Vanderbilt put her insignia on our hip pockets. Bo Derek made her debut, and several girls at MHS sported braids. French braids and baggy jeans, tight at the ankle, contrasted with "Urban Cowboy" boots and hats.

T-shirts were still a favorite, J. R. Ewing and Miss Piggy being the most popular to wear up front.

As Disco began to fade from the entertainment scene, country-western took over. Mechanical bulls and the "Cotton-eyed Joe" replaced lighted dance floors and the hustle. John Travolta, Robert Redford, and Willie Nelson brought country to the movies.

Along with the revival of country music came the revival of rock and roll, with new groups in concert and on records and tapes. REO Speedwagon, Journey, AC-DC, Styx, and the good ol' Beach Boys came to Tulsa to perform.

Gospel music, with a special style for the young people, brought the Sonshine Festival and the Imperials.

New faces such as Brooke Shields, Pat Benatar, Amy Irving, Christopher Cross, and Kermit the frog, as well as old favorites George Burns, Burt Reynolds, and Barbra Streisand entertained us.

What were the favorites in Mannford in 1980-81? Here's what the seniors said.

Song — "Celebration"

Female Singer — Pat Benatar

Male Singer — Kenny Rogers

Group — Styx

Album — The Imperials

Concert — Beach Boys

Indian Art Show

This year the Indian Art Show proved to be as exciting as ever. The high school art department contributed most of the beautiful pieces of art, such as the beginnings of an Indian suit complete with head dress and breast plate

The Home Economics department displayed some pot holders made similar to Indian designs made years ago

Along with all of the high school articles, the elementary school contributed drawings and writings done by some of the students.

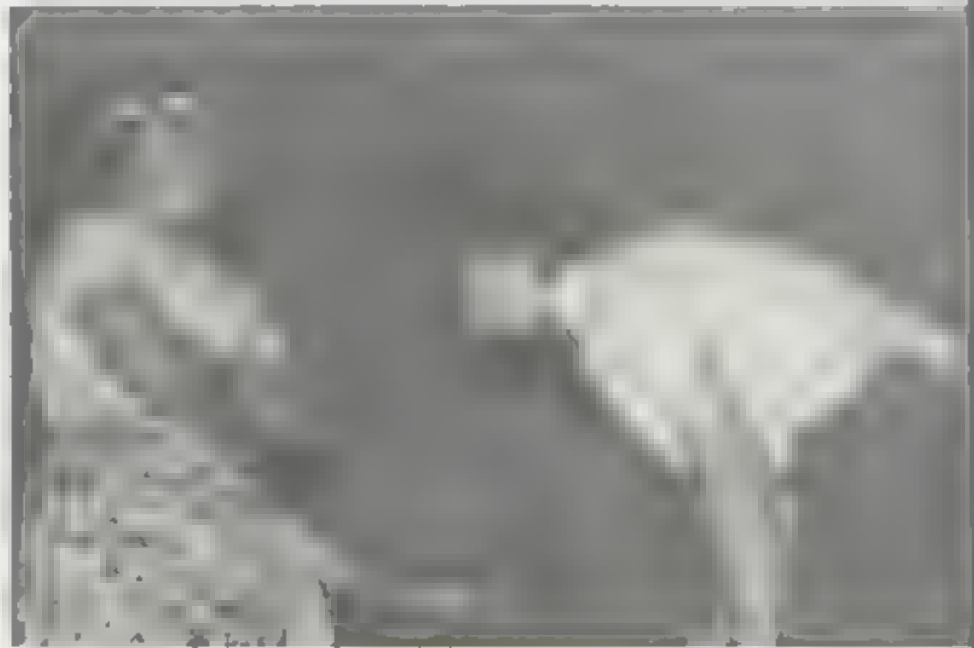

ONE ACTS

Mrs. Kaye Magill directed three one-act plays which were performed for students and community on January 7.

"Lifeguards" humorously told the political satire of a money-hungry politician and his two land-loving nephews.

"Werewolf?" hilariously led us into the world of a downtrodden, hen-pecked man who imagines he is a werewolf.

"The Octogenarian," a difficult drama featuring a mime chorus, was later presented at the regional speech contest and went on to place third in state competition.

1981 PROM

The 1981 prom, given by the juniors for the seniors, was a total success. The theme of the prom was "We've Only Just Begun."

The prom began with the reading of the prophecy and will, followed by the performance of Kaleidoscope and Reflections.

The highlight of the evening was the group Razzle, who played until the final couples dwindled away

1. The reading of the will was performed by Kim Short and Jay Cranke.

2. The reading of the prophecy was performed by Lourie McBroom, Dale Tune, Jodi Hamilton, and Ava VanDyke

3. By looking at the smiling faces it appears everyone is having a good time

4. Kaleidoscope and Reflections were part of the prom's entertainment

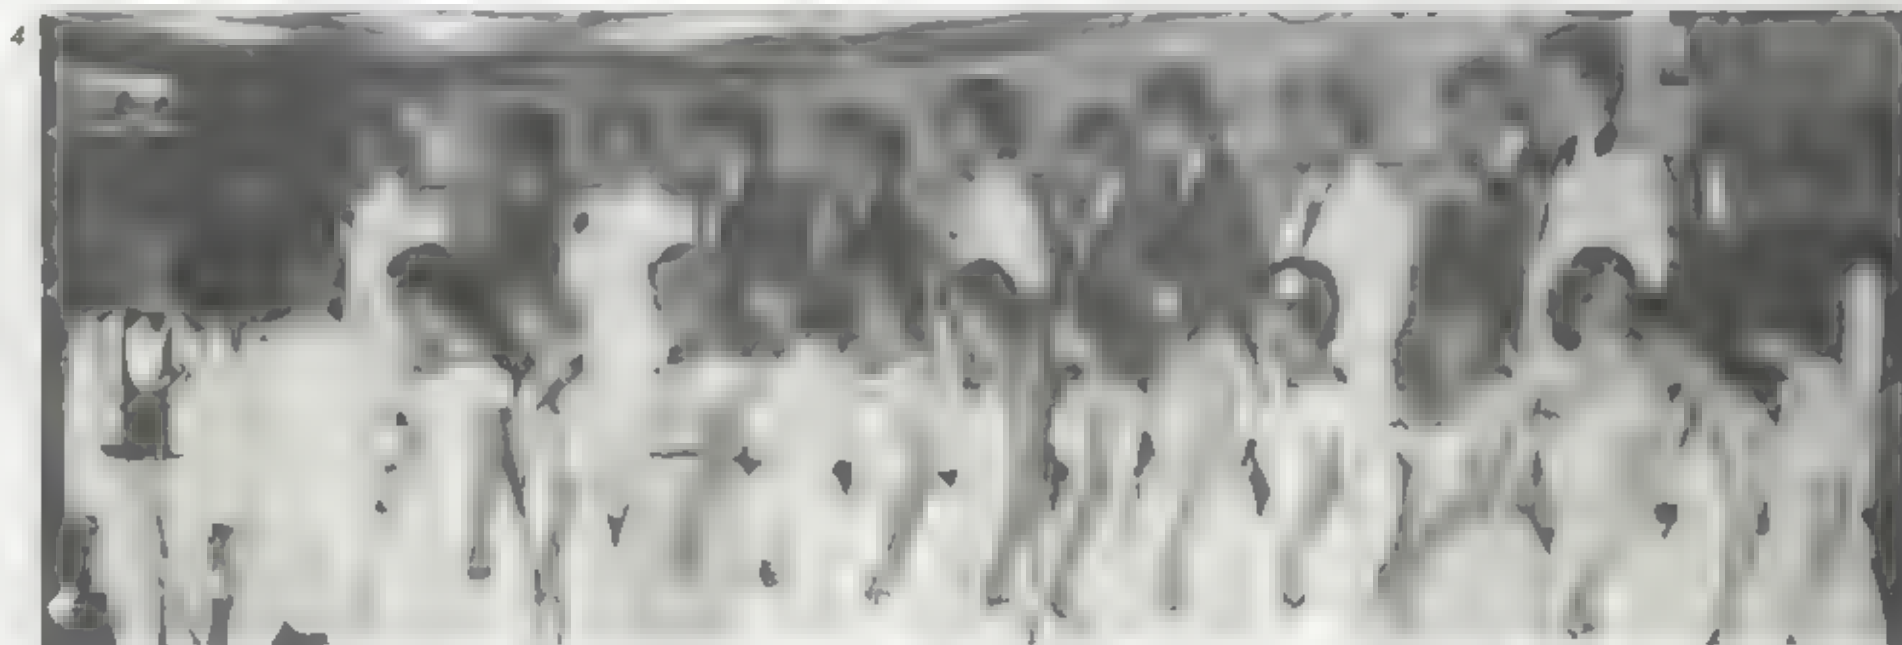

5. Seniors, Ted Jenkins and Lisa Norris, prepare to leave their final prom

6. Russell Klintworth really gets down on the dance floor

7. Danny Nobles and Sherry McCoy seem to enjoy the entertainment

8. Jay Cranke will do anything for a laugh

9. Terry Saul and Melissa Deiozier take time out for a serious shot?

Junior Play

This year the Junior Play, Our Town, was presented on May 14, 1981. It turned out to be a great success. The night performance was given as a dinner theater with over seventy people attending.

With a cast of 23 and a crew of 5, the juniors all pulled together and showed Mannford High and the community that the Junior class is really something.

PEOPLE...

Shakespearean Festival

The second annual Shakespearean festival was a time of great excitement and competition. The "jousting" was enjoyed by boys and girls alike. The "tug-o-war" was a little muddy, but enjoyed nevertheless. Egg tossing and three-legged racing were also popular, but the "stocks" weren't highly liked.

One of the high points of the afternoon was the crowning of the festival May Queen. Candidates were Tracy Burtrum, Frankie Tennison, Tammy Pierson, and Kristi Saul. Tracy was crowned queen with a beautiful wreath of flowers.

In the costume contest, Mark Lowery won 3rd place as "Robin Hood," Tracy Burtrum — 2nd as one of the fairer ladies of the court, and John Brewster — 1st place as "the court jester."

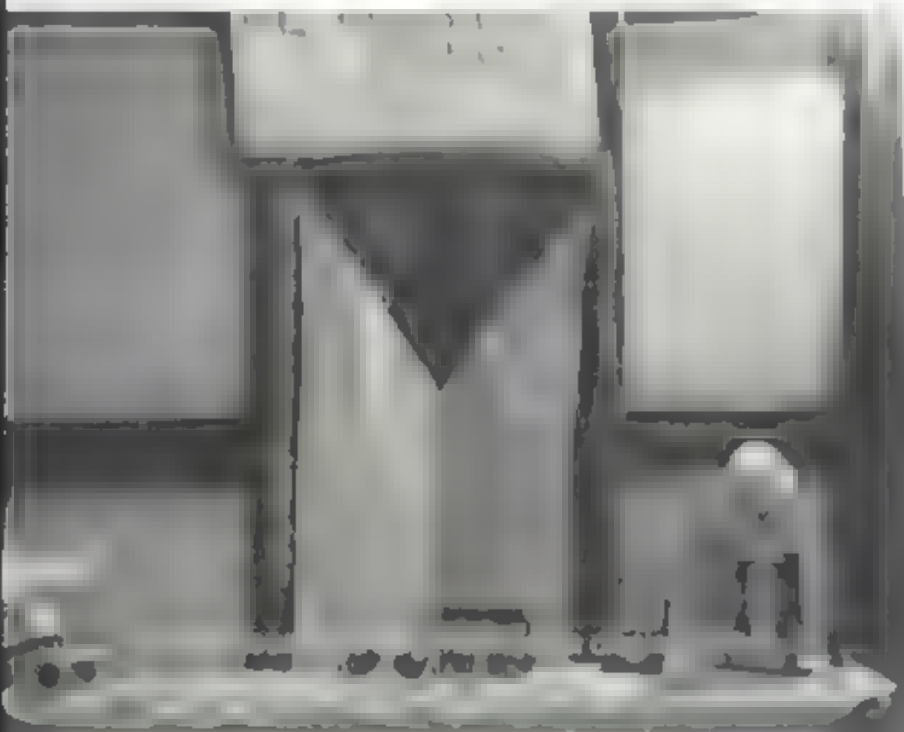

Combining the Shakespearean festival with the May Day celebration on such a beautiful spring day, spending an afternoon competing in the many events, and sharing all the excitement made the second annual Shakespearean festival one to remember for many years to come.

1. Tammy Pierson, Tracy Burtrum, Frankie Tennison, and Kristi Saul were the May Queen festival candidates
2. "The good guys always win!!!"
3. Jeff Jiminez, Bob Bennett, Terry Saul, David Muirheid, David Bennett, and Darryl Plunkett impress us with great strength in the tug-o-war challenges
4. The "Court Jester" bursting with excitement during the Shakespearean festival

GLORIOUS GOLD REGIMENT

The winterguard was formed by Wes Cartwright, a member of the rifle team in the drum corps, Sky Ryders.

After only 28 days of practice, the guard went to their only contest in Kingfisher. They received second place in their class, and were awarded with the title of outstanding flag line in class B.

GRADUATION

For graduates, graduation is a sad experience. They have been in for twelve years, leaving behind and going out into the big world are just a few of the words associated with graduation.

Although some feel the experience is sad, still others find it a happy occasion as they enter it to new worlds, start a new career, work or college. They will be making new friends and starting the biggest adventure of their lives.

Awakening
 Where did all the time go?
 One day we were just starting school
 And you lived right down the street
 Summer vacations lasted forever
 Winters were endless days
 Of ice skating and sledging
 And hot chocolate after dark
 We watched each others
 Memories grow
 Yet our eyes never saw part
 Each day's sunlight
 There was no such word as
 Goodbye
 But we finally learned its meaning
 And the sun faded
 And our child-like eyes filled
 With grown-up tears

MARCHING BAND

After the band's first performance, a band parent said, "I certainly hope they get better." That is exactly what they did. It seemed as if the band improved after each performance. They pleased every crowd they performed for and received standing ovations from most.

Their first contest was the Pryor Marching Contest. They received third place in field marching and the color guard received second place. Their next contest was the State Marching Contest. They received an excellent rating of two. Their third contest was the marching contest in Norman. They were awarded third place in their class and fifteenth place overall. They ended their season at Tri-State. They received a two with a score of 94.4.

1. Path Farris seems to be a little apprehensive as the inspector checks her over.
2. The band awaits the signal from the drum major to begin the show.
3. Mr. Arnold watches for mistakes as the band performs.
4. At Tri-State, Wes Cartwright greets the audience as the band receives a standing ovation.

- 1 The band forms the ending for Spain
- 2 Russell Kintworth did an excellent job on his solo at Tri-State
- 3 Doyle Wollard solo "What I Love About You"
- 4 The band makes another one of their many formations
- 5 The band receives a standing ovation from the audience in the Muppet Show

STAGE BAND

They said it could not be done! From the beginning of the school year, it seemed as if the stage band just could not get the judge's approval. But at the end of the year, they proved everyone wrong!

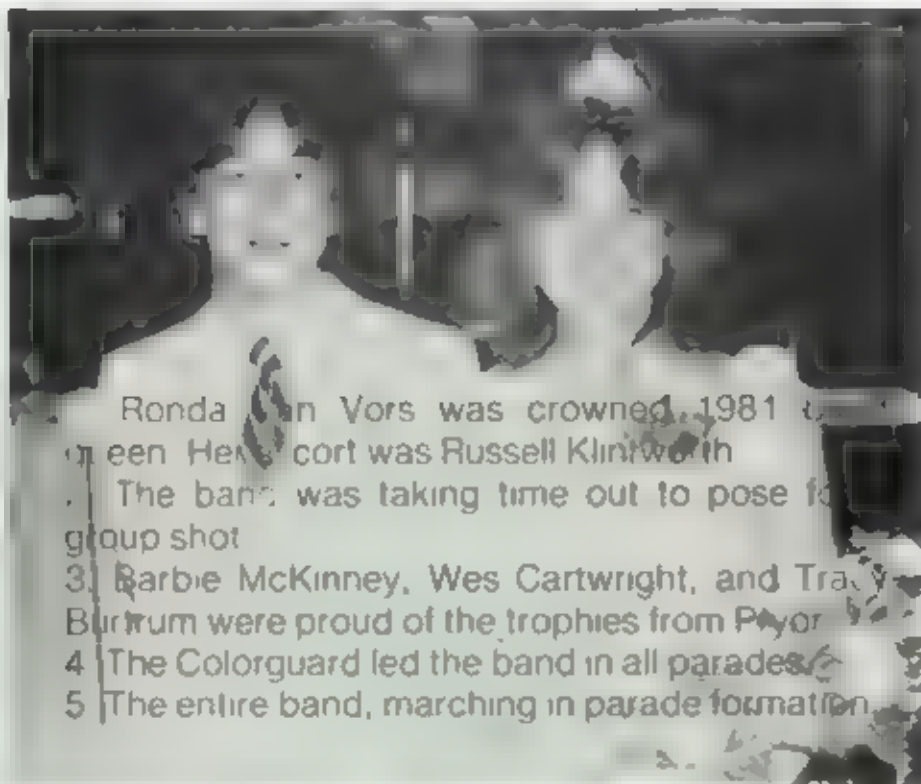

Some of the stage band's first performances included the opening of the Cimarron Telephone Company and the Mannford State Bank. They were well received at both places.

The band's first contest was the Green Country Jazz Festival. They received a rating of two. The band then went on to the State Stage Band Contest. They received a rating of two again. They wound up the year by competing at the Tri-State Music Festival. Tri-State proved to be their turning point. After much anticipation, they were kept waiting almost two days, they found they had received an outstanding rating of one. To top it all off, they were named the outstanding stage band in their class.

1. Playing saxophone during the first part of 'Chase the Cows Away'.
2. Playing saxophone during the second part of 'Chase the Cows Away'.
3. The stage band performing at the Tri-State Music Festival.
4. The first line section playing saxophone during the first part of 'Chase the Cows Away'.
5. After moving to Mannford, the stage band played the first part of 'Chase the Cows Away'.

- 1 Ronda Ann Vors was crowned 1981 Queen. Her court was Russell Klintworth.
- 2 The band was taking time out to pose for a group shot.
- 3 Barbie McKinney, Wes Cartwright, and Tracy Burtrum were proud of the trophies from Pryor.
- 4 The Colorguard led the band in all parades.
- 5 The entire band, marching in parade formation.

CONCERT BAND

Although the concert portion of the band wasn't necessarily everyone's favorite, the band worked together to make concert a success. The band traveled to Coalgate to compete, where they received a rating of three. The directors decided it would be best if they change to a different piece of music for the final contest. The band practiced and then went to Tri-State. Everyone, including the directors, expected another rating of three or even a four. The band surprised the directors as well as themselves when they received an excellent rating of two.

PARADE MARCHING

The band performed in many parades. The first parade was at the Striped Bass Festival. The second was the Tulsa State Fair Parade in which they placed third. They placed third in the Pryor Parade, also. Their final performance was the Tri-State Multi-Million Dollar Parade where they scored a 94.3 out of 100 points.

HIGH SCHOOL CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleading season began when the girls were asked to supply refreshments for the football guys after their hot and hard practices. They were rewarded with one dozen roses each. They cheered at all the football and basketball games. This squad pulled together to make a very successful year

High School Pep Club

A large number of Mannford High School students participated in this year's pep club. Much spirit and pride was shown toward our hard working athletes. The pep club followed their teams to away games, giving them much support. Their enthusiasm held out through wind, rain and cold during the seasonal sports. Dedication and hard work made an especially outstanding pep club.

FRESHMAN CHEERLEADERS

The freshman cheerleaders were a very spirited group of girls. Not only did they cheer the teams on, they also gave a party for the boys, bought corsages for the girls, and raffled off tickets to raise money. Hard work and dedication made for a great cheering season.

SCIENCE CLUB

The science club was very active this year. One of their first assignments was to run a booth at the carnival. The prizes were baseball caps bearing the insignia of either New York Yankees or Philadelphia Phillies.

The science club also went on field trips. They went to Tulsa's Hiltcrest Hospital. A month later they went to the Omniplex Planetarium and the Air and Space museum in Oklahoma City.

1. On a science club trip, Mark Lowery, Rashel Hogue, and Jodie Hamilton look at a scale model.

2. President, Colleen Silva, wants to be a chemist, but does this mean she must grow?

Kaleidoscope

Kaleidoscope, a swinging group in nineteen eighty-one, was involved in many exciting adventures. They performed with enthusiasm for many responsive audiences, for the student body jazz choir contest, Silver Dollar City, area churches, and their most emotional performance, graduation. Throughout the year, they learned to conquer many challenges, build friendship, and relate to the hard work needed to build a close group.

1. Kaleidoscope enjoyed traveling to different schools such as this program put on for Oilton Public Schools
2. Mary Elkins and Jeff Porter both were satisfied with the past performance
3. After many hours of practice, Melissa Delozier and Janet Vanderford still feel that they have to use their vocal cords

1. Look Ms. Elkins, we've got it all together

2. Who's behind those Foster Grants? Who else but our faithful teacher, Mary Elkins.

Reflections

Unlike former years, Reflections has expanded into a mixed singing group. The variety of music has increased as the group has learned to work together. The group sang many different styles of music ranging from pop, gospel, and even some boogie music. The group performed for many activities throughout the year with much enthusiasm and pride.

GIRLS FCA

The purpose of the FCA huddle is to bring together athletes to talk about their concerns, doubt, feelings, and faith. Huddles don't just happen. They are a product of commitment and diligent effort. The athlete has a unique "ministry of influence." FCA wants them to use this ministry to strengthen the church, school, community, and nation

BOYS FCA

Boys FCA is designed to bring together athletics within Mannford High School. The boys meet twice a month at the school to share with one another experiences they have encountered within and without athletic competition.

They expect to create strong individuals by sharing in the teachings of Christ. The boys do all they can for the community but also they work hard to establish a positiveness in their own personal lives.

F.H.A.

Mannford High School's Chapter of Future Homemakers of America is a busy organization with many goals. They work to benefit others in many ways. This year the chapter sponsored "The Muppet Movie" to raise money for the Heart Fund, entertained the senior citizens on Valentine's Day, and hosted their annual "Pirate Pigout" as a fat treat after one of the football games.

YEARBOOK

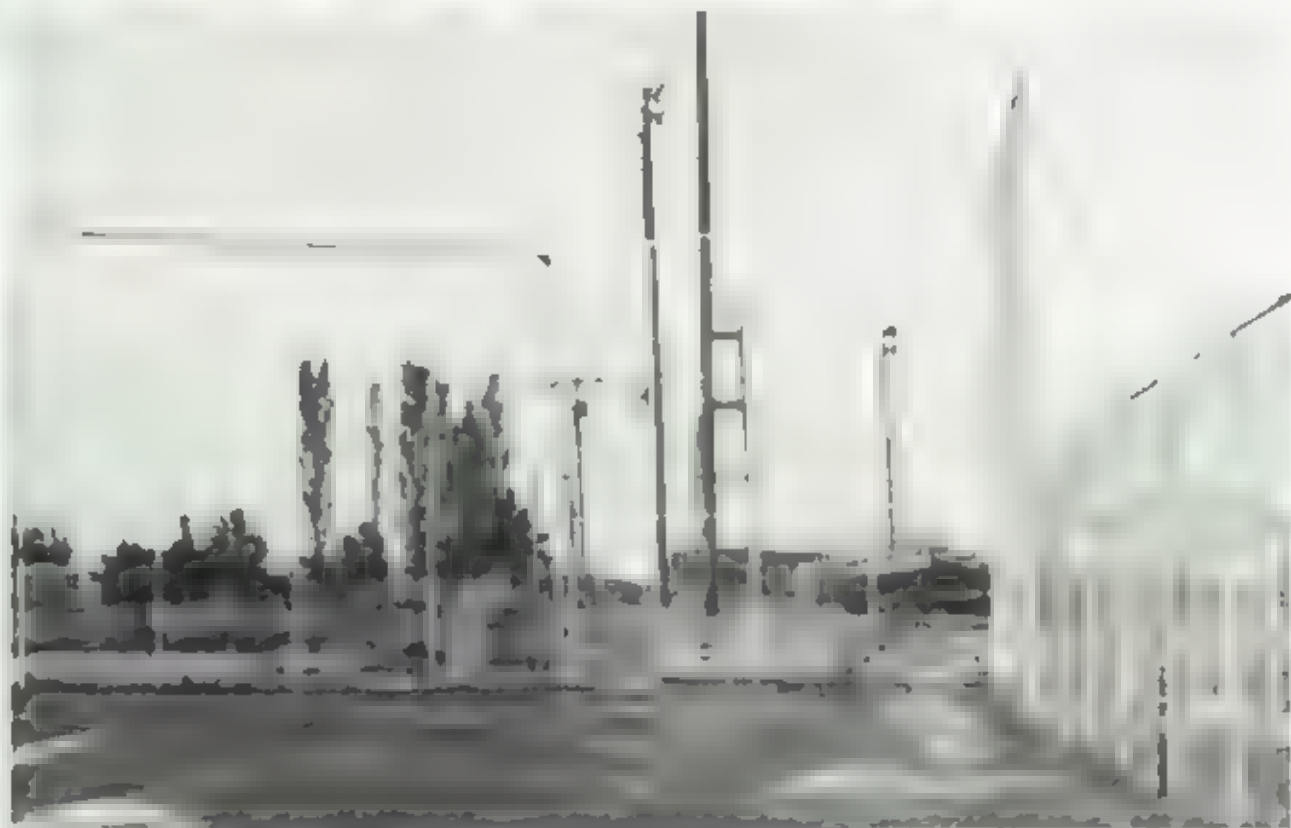

Yearbook is a mob of shuffling, rushing, last minute confusion when it comes to meeting deadlines. Photographers hurry to catch the right moves on film during the games, activities, etc. Copy writers are hard at work interviewing teachers, students, and club members, which all combine to create a story. Designers keep coming up with new ideas to work on and use. The YEARBOOK STAFF learned a lot this year, and worked hard together to make this yearbook full of memories that no one will ever forget.

DOMINIKES

Every year we provide services to our community and school. This active group of students grow and provide tomato plants for senior citizens. The major project of the year was to complete the baseball field in which they greatly succeeded.

1. Dominique members work hard on all of their projects.

2. One of the biggest projects throughout the year was to complete the baseball field.

3. Phillip Holbrook tends to a few of the many plants grown by Dominique member.

4. Chris Barnes sits back and observes his masterpiece.

5. Students' daily duty is to check plants to be sure they are OK.

Student Council

The Student Council is an upstanding, outstanding, respected group of students who care about their fellow students and their school. They all work together for a common cause.

The members gave their best from the Annual Halloween Carnival to money raising projects, and several student dances throughout the entire year.

Being a leader and a representative to so many students is an important position. The Student Council members are the leaders of student activities, the promoters of spirit and pride, the active voice of the entire student body, and most importantly the team of students who help to change our school for the better.

1. Secretary Joni Hupp reads the minutes of the last meeting to councilman Dale Tune
- 2 Allison Hale thinks the whole idea is crazy, and Todd Knott thinks Allison is crazy
3. Kim Short and Joni Hupp participate in the excitement of a Student Council meeting
4. Mr. Hammers did a fine job of leading the Student Council and assisting them to the best of his ability
5. President of M H S Student Council, Jamie Hope, takes her leadership position seriously

SOFTBALL

Last year was MHS's first year to sport a girl's fast-pitch softball team. The team consisted of 17 players led by four seniors.

Last year was mainly a year for learning and getting it together. Although the win loss record wasn't good; the team tried hard and put out a tremendous effort for each game played. They started coming on strong near the end of the season, but a few injuries during prior games put a damper on the team's spirit.

The team played in the District Tournament at Turkey Mountain. The team lost their first round against Tulsa Central and were sent home. That was also the last game of the season. They played 11 season games.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The learning experience of the 1980 season proved to be beneficial to the overall outcome of the season.

The coaching staff for the 1980 season was: head football coach John Wittenborn, former assistant of Tulsa University, and assistant coaches Wes Brown, John Greenfield, and Dean Pierce.

The first win of the season came on October 17, when the Pirates defeated the Cascia Hall Commandoes by a score of 14-13. The highlight of the night, and of the entire season, was the interview by Chris Lincoln from Channel Eight News. Lincoln interviewed four of the starting seniors: Danny Saul, Ray Blake, Gary Summerlin, and Jimmy Wilson.

Also interviewed was Coach Wittenborn. Lincoln implied that Coach Witt was having more fun on the field as a high school coach than as a major college coach. Coach Witt replied with his usual, "You Got That Right!"

1. Coach John Wittenborn tells a player how the play is supposed to go.

2. Senior football players enjoying the Homecoming Pep Assembly are Scott Whiles, Terry Saul, Danny Saul, Ray Blake, Mike Hamilton, and Gary Summerlin.

3. The front line prepares for another play during the August 2 a-day practices.

4. Defense holds tough against Broken Arrow. Players shown are Gary Summerlin, Jeff Porter, Danny Saul, and Danny Nobles.

Wrestling

Led by Coach McCann and manager Jay Cranke, our varsity wrestlers fought bravely, and although our middle school wrestlers were new they wrestled with confidence and pride. Individual competition was the spirit for all of our wrestlers throughout the season.

With falls, take-downs, and pins, the varsity and middle school wrestlers used brawn and brains to overcome their opponents for the glory of Mannford High.

- 1 "Gotcha now!" says Billy Muirheid
- 2 All wait to see the outcome of the match

BOYS' TRACK

Fine showings were presented at all meets by the Mannford track stars during the '81" season. The coach saw action in the meets and Regionals. This year Jamie Caudie and Jeff Hampshire placed first at Regionals to go on to the state track meet, at which Jeff placed fifth with his jump of 12'6". It was a great season guys!

BASEBALL

Batting, pitching, and fielding are the three main points of baseball, and our baseball team showcased the finest in all areas

Precision playmaking and good all-round play made our team exciting to watch, and the squad put their all into each game and their results were nothing less than measurable with the effort extended

With several season wins, the squad gave Mannford a flying start in Spring

6. By the looks on their faces, they've won again
7. Terry Saul patiently waits for the ball
8. Alton Bateman catches a fast ball

TENNIS

This is the first year for Mannford High School to have a tennis team. While inexperienced, the team showed determination and was expected to give any team they went against quite a bit of tough competition. Senior members of the team were Wes Cartwright, Jimmy Peters, Brian Rathbun, and Scott Whiles. This new tennis team was supervised by the new coach Lonnie Spencer. Those not pictured in the group shot are Jay Hupp, Jimmy Peters, Mark Vincent, and Scott Whiles.

1. Jimmy Peters finds his last shot amusing, but Mark Vincent wishes they would have won

Seniors '81

We're the best
Second to none
Super Senior '81

This was the yell heard by everyone, before every assembly by

While other classes had the tendency to grow in separate directions, the class of '81 seemed to pull closer together. This senior class was known for its unity. They worked hard to become seniors, and they played hard to make their last year a year to remember. Although it was sad to leave, it signaled the beginning of new adventures.

Turning and the key to a senior year will be kept for many years

Juniors

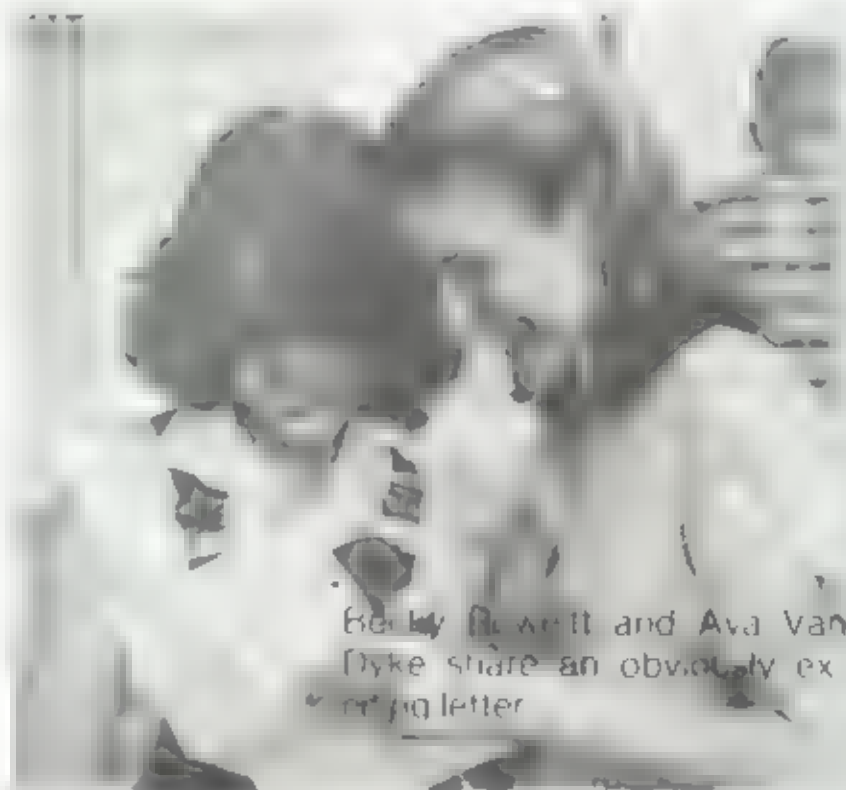

"Look out world, we're coming through — Super Seniors '82!!"

The class of '82 is well on its way to seniorhood. They did a fine job of keeping their funds up by selling magazine subscriptions, selling candy bars, running the bingo booth at the annual Halloween carnival, and operating the concession stand at football and basketball games.

The Junior-Senior prom was a great success and very much enjoyed by all who attended.

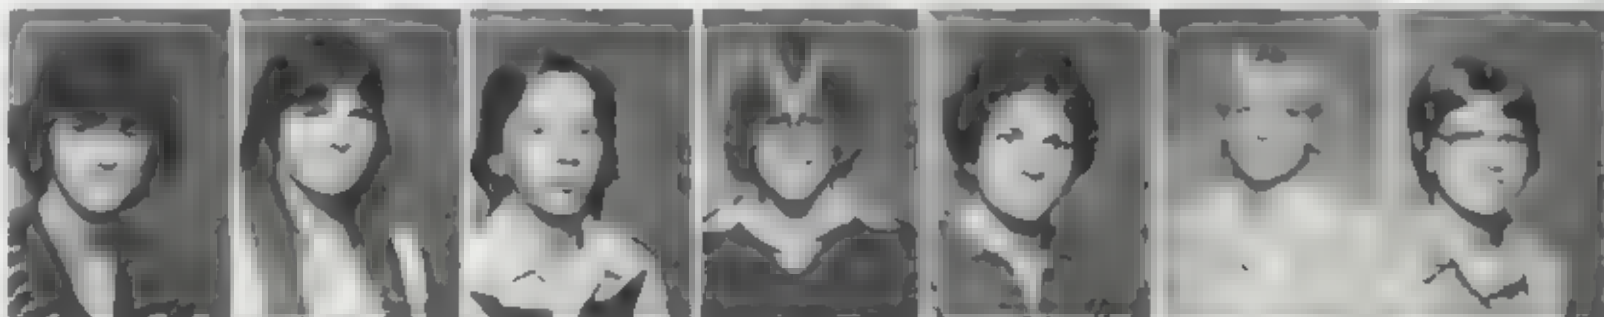

The Juniors showed a great deal of responsibility in obligations, participation in every kind of school sponsored function, pride in fellow students and their school.

They're looking forward to another final year of excitement, enjoyment, and unity.

Bobby Blackwell and Ava Van Dyke share an obviously extra special letter.

Sophomores

The class of '83" jumped up a notch this year from little freshmen to big sophomores. Who could forget the thrills and joys of the way Mrs. Turner taught them how to spell sophomore and the enthusiasm of going into Ariana's class to learn about proofs and how to distribute $x(z+b)$. Now as for driving, this class had to be the best. The competition this year was close every time for "drivers-ed star of the week." Even though the sophomore float came in last place, the spirit and pride shown by the class has always stood out. They are truly the "Super Seniors of '83!"

9th Grade

This is freshmen's first year of high school. It is much different from the middle school but freshmen are adjusting and growing to love the excitement of high school adventures. They have more freedom in deciding the classes, teachers, and hours they take. There are more sports, clubs, and activities to participate in. Freshmen joined in and worked hard in participating in the football homecoming parade in which they won first place with a muppet show float.

High School Faculty

Is there a way to describe our high school teachers? They are busy, creative, and always eager to take part in school activities, pep assemblies, professional meetings, and of course, the fantastic fund-raiser — Faculty Follies. Several teachers organized educational assemblies on careers, teenage parenthood, and drug dependency, topics which they felt must be dealt with as well as English, history, math, and science. Many teachers also kept busy sponsoring clubs and organizations and helping students raise money, build floats, and plan activities. How do we describe our high school teachers? Important!

School Board and Administration

These are the fine people, who are behind our school planning. They enable our system to perform successfully. They all work together to get things done throughout the year

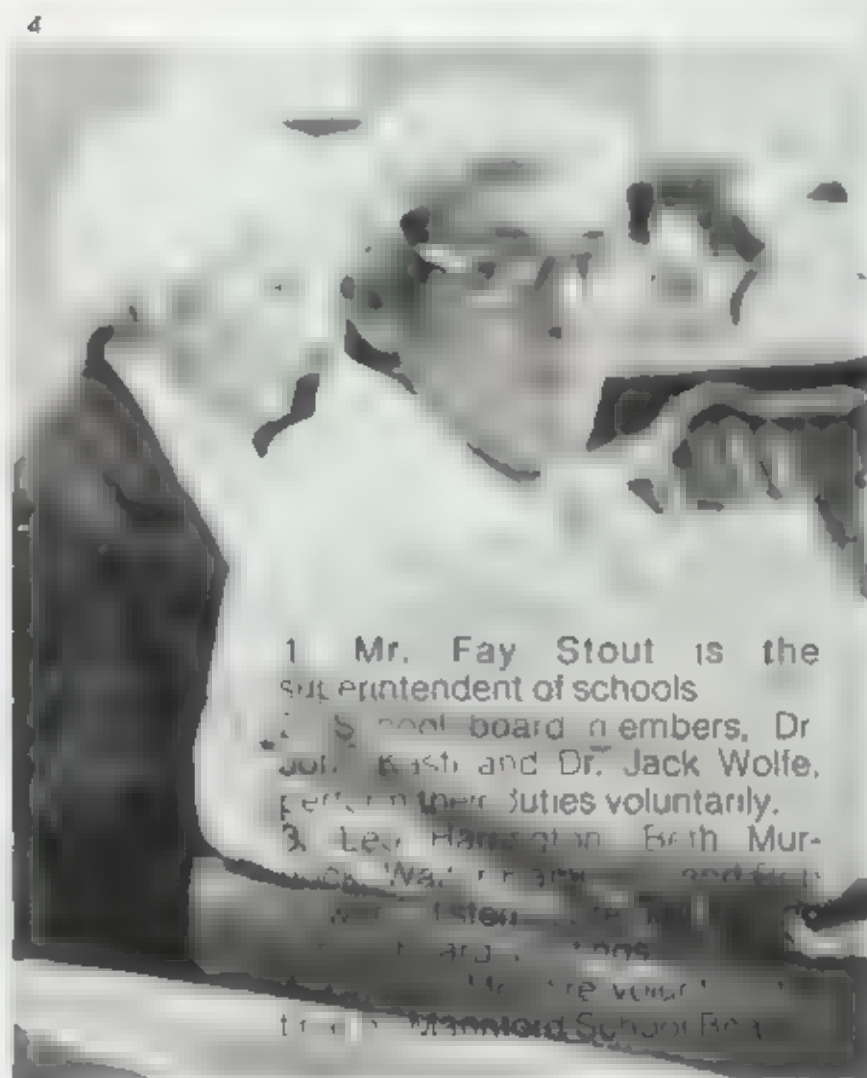

One major project this year was an extension of classrooms and space in the middle school building

There are many everyday problems these few deal with. They are experienced in working with students, parents, and teachers, providing answers to questions which often arise

Board of Education

Dr. Jack Wolfe, President; Frank Behrens, Vice-President; Dr. John Kastl, Member

1 Mr. Fay Stout is the superintendent of schools

2 School board members, Dr. John Kastl and Dr. Jack Wolfe, perform their duties voluntarily.

3 Lee Hammon, Beth Murdock, Wade Hammon, and John Hammon are the school board members.

4 Mr. Fay Stout is the superintendent of schools.

5 The school board members are the backbone of the school system.

1 One of Judy Acree's many jobs is answering the phone in the elementary office

2. Carolyn Gregor and Sue Alexander lend a helping hand when the going gets tough

3. No time for breaks says Betty Latty and Kathleen Herrington working hard at their desks

4. Two secretaries who have helped kept the Mannford School organized are LaRue McCrackin and June Sterns

5. Stepping out for a lunch break outdoors are Terri Harper and Bell Hartsock

Secretaries and Aides

Secretaries and aides are important too. They really worked hard this year by doing everything from writing tardy slips, to transcripts, to financial statements. They were also a big help by doing their best at giving make-up tests and watching classes. We really appreciate these ladies

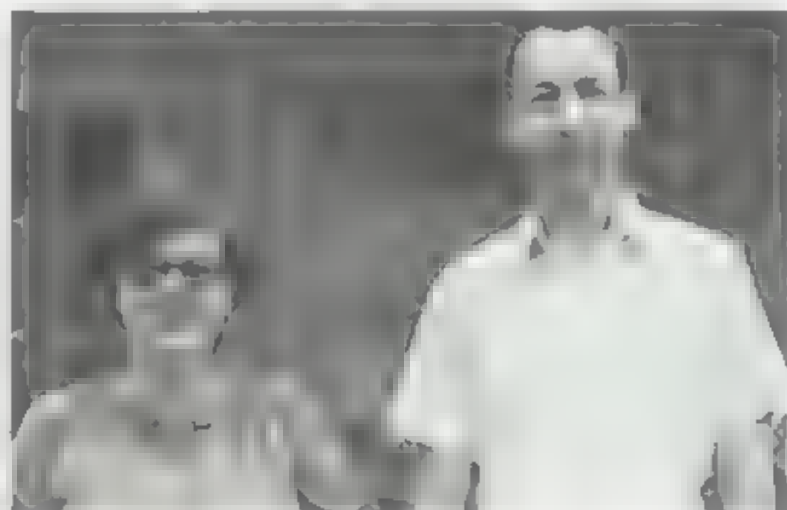

Support Personnel

We would like to extend our great appreciation to the fine support personnel of the Mannford High school, middle school, and elementary school for keeping our meals hot, hallways clean, buses running, classrooms neat, and campus grounds clean

Many thanks go to our special support staff. You did a fine job of keeping all the loose ends of school life together

Middle School Student Council

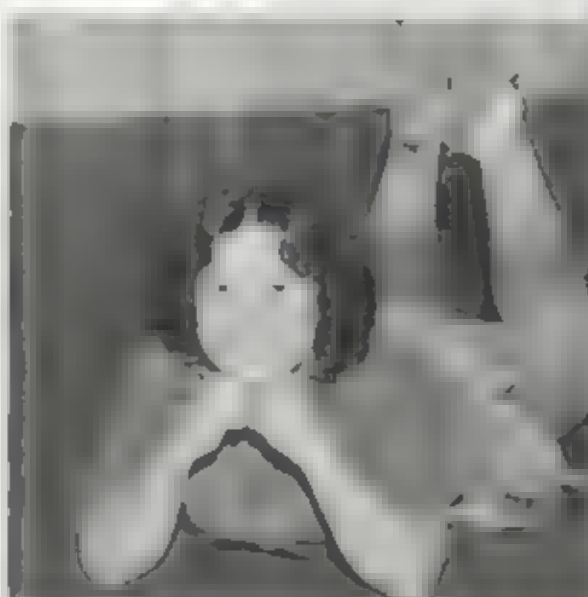

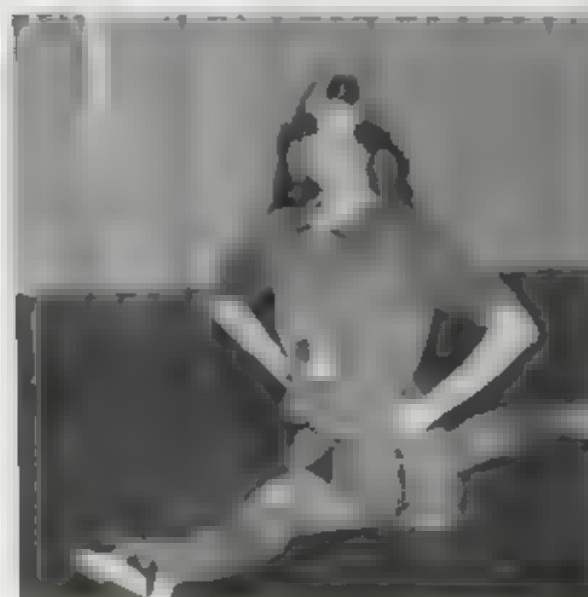

The Student Council showed great effort in boosting the pride of the middle school students. They sponsored "Fifties Day," "Crazy Day" and other events to make school more exciting. Each year the council raises money to add another piece of equipment to the science, sports or another department.

Being a member of the council is an honorable achievement for any student willing to devote time and talent to making school more enjoyable. We'd like to encourage all students to participate in the activities and in the Student Council

Middle School Cheerleaders

Middle School Cheerleaders worked hard with much enthusiasm and pride to create a highly spirited squad this year. The six girls worked together to give support and arouse spirit in middle school athletic programs. Spirit, pride, and enthusiasm are just a few of the things you can find behind these outstanding girls. Top to Bottom, Left to right: Cherry Farrow, Beth Lowery, Hope Manes, Cindy Martin, Vicki Brown, Angie Johnson.

Eighth Grade

Having more responsibility is what being an eighth grader meant. They knew the routine well and felt more comfortable with it.

Eighth graders got used to the ISCS science program.

Most noticeable was their enthusiasm. Classmates and teachers alike enjoyed their spirit.

The class showed leadership, helped each other in time of need, and looked forward to the future. Their sense of responsibility set an example which was difficult to follow.

For the eighth grade it was a year of learning and discovery in the world of business, in sports and in student life.

Seventh Grade

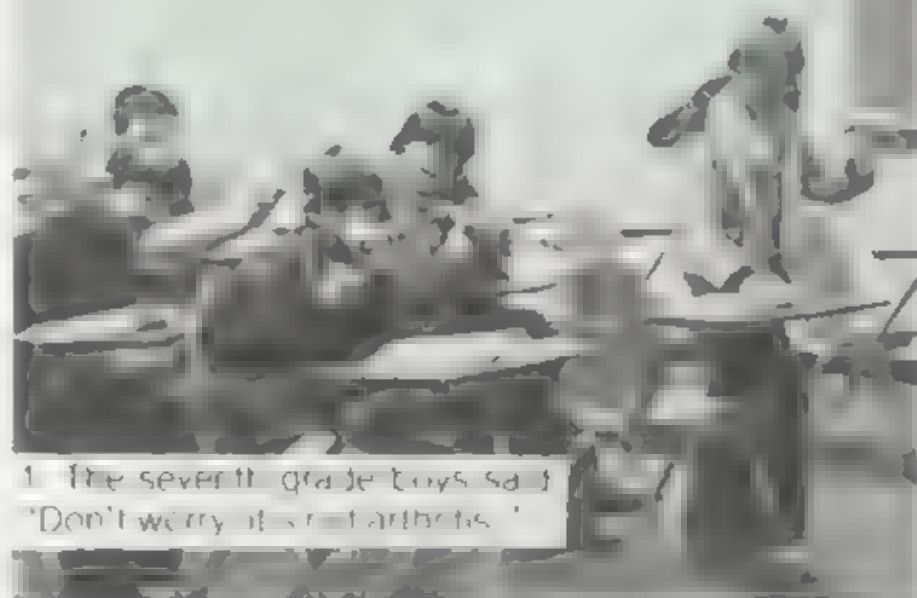

Seventh graders are hit with more responsibilities this year than ever before. The old routine was familiar which made things a lot more comfortable for them.

School became more exciting as seventh graders enjoyed working in the ISCS science program.

There were more sports to participate in and, boys especially enjoyed their competition in wrestling.

Much spirit and enthusiasm went out throughout the year which was enjoyed by all.

The Middle School will be proud to have this class attend next year.

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade year in the life of a student is one of the hardest, but it's very rewarding when complete. Even though it wasn't easy for the sixth graders, they did a fine job of adjusting to all the new surroundings, faces, and to being the smallest of the student body again.

We thank them all for being participants in sporting events and other school-sponsored functions.

Good luck next year!

Middle School Faculty

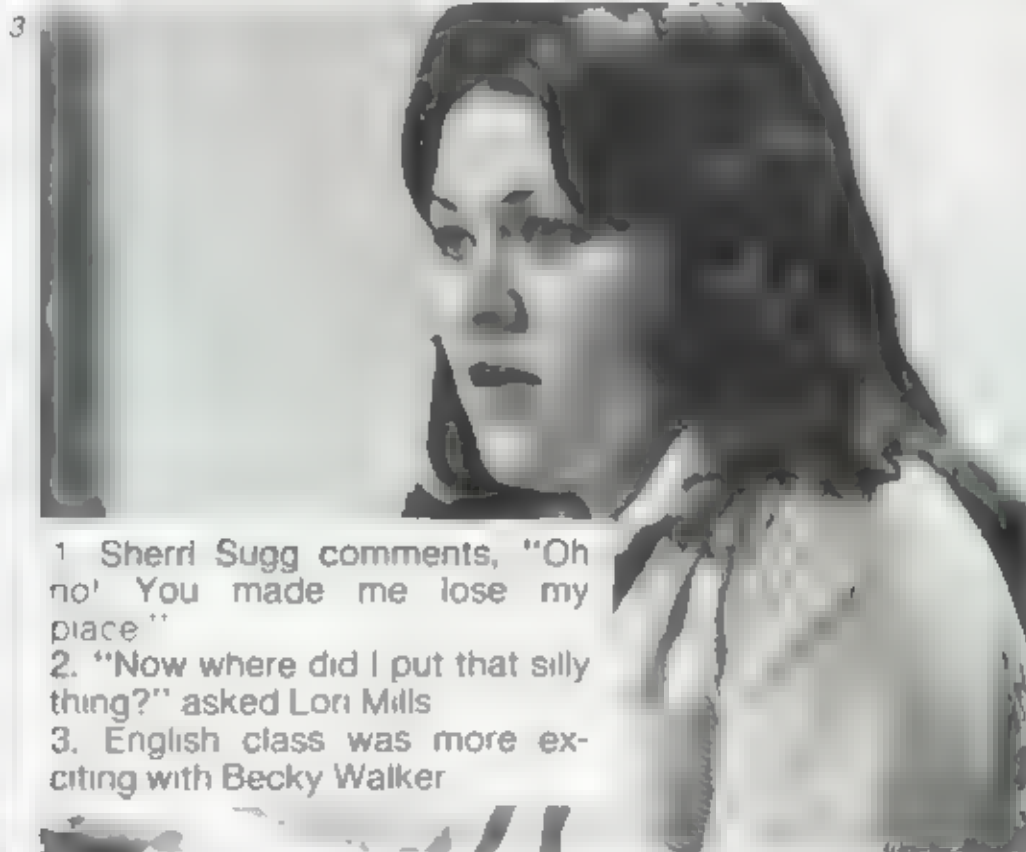

It takes a special kind of person to work successfully with sixth, seventh, and eighth graders. No one else could put in so many hours of hard work with these kids, than our own middle school faculty. They are equally at home teaching their subjects, performing in the faculty follies, sponsoring student dances. In the follies they raised money to be used for scholarships for students and for needy families. These teachers have truly been the backbone of the kids' education. We all should be proud to have such a successful staff

Fifth Grade

Fifth grade is an exciting year for Mannford students. They participate in competitive sports for the first time, and they have their first experience with choosing classes — band or vocal music.

These students also shared new learning experiences with trips to Tulsa International Airport and Mohawk zoo.

Probably the most exciting thing about being fifth graders was the anticipation of going on to the Middle School the following year.

Fourth Grade

The fourth grade have enjoyed this year more than ever before. They put a lot of effort into studying the five senses. Also learning both long and short division as well as multiplication was new and exciting. They have also learned their directions, been working with maps, and play map games learning to locate certain areas. One of the most fun parts of school for them this year is working at reading 25 books a year so that they can send in for free things. They also really enjoyed their plays, skits, search puzzles, and learning to write letters. This year the fourth grade has accomplished much!

THIRD GRADE

The third grade was very active this year. Among the many things they learned were multiplication and division along with cursive writing and the 50 states of the U.S.; also some of the countries and continents of the world.

To take a break from the everyday work of their class, the third graders took an exciting trip to Wooloroc where they studied the many paintings and artifacts. Then back to the learning of the solar system and many other things. They also enjoyed P.E. which introduced them to basketball, and on Fridays they had art for a little fun.

Now with all of this behind them, third graders will be able to become fourth graders with just a little more knowledge.

Second Grade

Learning to add and subtract is just one of the many tasks of the active second graders in Mannford Elementary

Throughout the year these kids study Indian culture, birds, animals, and even solar systems. The second graders also attend many field trips pertaining to their studies. The trips include Pawnee Museum, for the study of Indians, the Tulsa Zoo while studying animals, and the post office at Mannford, after writing letters to the President as well as their pen pals in California.

The second grade year is full of many interesting outside activities, along with their basic studies such as Grammar, Math, Science, and Social Studies.

FIRST GRADE

The first graders were all excited about having all-day classes for the first time. There is a lot of coloring pictures, working on 1s and 10s in math.

They were overjoyed to be in the Christmas play this year. The first graders' favorite subject, which all of them love, is recess.

It was a brand new world for first graders, one filled with new people, new places and special events.

Learning to read, spell, add, and subtract was a challenge during their first year of all-day classes.

These youths are learning to fill vital roles as they adapt themselves to their new surroundings.

Kindergarten

Pasting, cutting, coloring, and drawing are only a few of the activities that launched these kindergarteners into school life. Of course, the most fun was learning numbers and the letters of the alphabet. Repetition was a very important part of their learning process, in order to get these new students in the groove and off to a good start. Another fun learning aid was "Alpha Time." Colorful punching bags with letters of the alphabet and interesting characters were used to learn lots of new words. The kindergarten classes participated in the 1980 Christmas program and enjoyed many other holiday activities. However, if this group of fine five year-olds had been polled, their favorite activity would have been recess.

Elementary Faculty

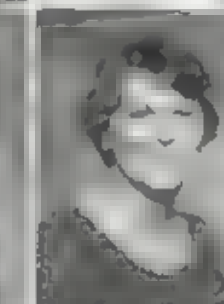

Being an elementary teacher is a rewarding and challenging experience. Working with smaller children was great fun for the teachers as they planned many activities for the children to enjoy. Much time went into planning everyday activities as well as field trips to provide a broad-range of experiences. The children made bulletin boards, posters, and decorated, to liven up their rooms, as well as provide attention to their lessons
